Investors Relations (January 24, 2022)
Bruh "YOU DIDN'T KNOW I AM THE JOKE"

Dear Investors Relations (January 24, 2022),

Coaches! 101 A NJ Non-Profit has a new item in the collection of art. The new collection is categorized as Meme Art. This collection is part of Omar Dyer's blockchain, also known as Mad Comedian's blockchain. Currently at this moment in time, this singular collection is valued at $3,500; which will include an 8' by 12' meme on parchment paper, a collection portfolio, an investment letter of intent, with the companies IPS (Investment Portfolio Statement), a Bill of Sale; to show that you are an investor, and can trade the portfolio at the current market rate.

Facebook Fundraising

v

Facebook Fundraising, removed the business efforts of: BRUH "YOU DIDN'T KNOW I AM THE JOKE" due to an organization method of the event not meeting the standards of the individual organization's platform. At this current time, the amount of money raised was $370 and the amount refunded was $370. The fundraiser didn't meet one of the standards of the organizations. Facebook uses a payment processor known as Stripe Payment Processing service, which has a negative review and has been in trouble with congress for their business practices.

Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit, will continue to organize and raise money for the evaluation of the collection of art. The organization will move the collection of art to the online storefront known as www.makemadcomedianfamous.com – whereas the singular goal is to raise $3,500 by the end of the year. And once the evaluation has been raised, the parent company plans to place this NFT on the market of Open Seas, NFT marketplace.

Warm regards,

Omar L Dyer (Legal Representative)
